Gail,

Once you get over the shock of getting thru biology, start looking at the wild things all around. "A rose by any other name still smells as sweet," in biology or out.

Good luck,

Dandelion Days

All our dandelion days are done
and so we'll run the fields no more
in search of wild roses that grow out on the moor.

All our dandelion days are done
and so we'll turn our heads away from every silver morning and every golden day.

But sweet September's open arms belonged to us and held us once.
Remember when the summertime sang songs to us and only us.

All our dandelion days are done
and so we'll run the fields no more
for all the wild roses have withered on the moor.

FOREWORD

This edition of the SHIP is but the preamble to our lives; for the dreams of our future are as of yet empty pages . . .

And we, so anxious to write on them,
shelve the past, and dive to the future . . .

But we WILL remember.

DEDICATION

James E. Dyer

A friend is one who hears us, who understands us, who becomes ours --
a possession for all time.

A friend is one who does not fear to involve himself with those who need his help.

A friend is you.

May you never cease -- even for an instant -- to be yourself!

And so it is with sincere gratitude that we, the class of 1970, dedicate this edition of the Ship to you, Mr. James E. Dyer.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Hazen Moores

Members of the Class of 1970, I extend my sincere and fond congratulations and best wishes to you.

You have been an outstanding class and have been a credit to your school.

I am reassured as I observe you and your performances here at P.I.H.S. that you will successfully meet the exciting challenges of our times. Our world will soon be in your hands and I'm sure that you will make fine citizens and capable leaders. Good luck to each of you.

The image features a symmetrical, abstract design. It consists of a central horizontal band of a fine, light grey mesh texture. Above and below this band are two identical sections. Each section is composed of a series of overlapping, semi-circular or arc-like shapes. These shapes are filled with a solid black color, and they are separated by thin, white, curved lines that follow the same arc pattern. The overall effect is a rhythmic, geometric pattern that frames the central text.

The image features a symmetrical, abstract design. It consists of a central horizontal band of a light grey, textured material. Above and below this band are two identical sections. Each section is composed of a series of overlapping, semi-circular or arc-like shapes. The outermost arcs are white, and the inner areas are black, creating a rhythmic, tunnel-like visual effect. The entire composition is set against a plain, off-white background.

The image features a symmetrical, abstract design. It consists of a central horizontal band of a light grey, textured material. Above and below this band are two identical sections. Each section is composed of a series of overlapping, semi-circular or arched shapes. The outermost edges of these shapes are white, while the interior areas are a solid black. The overlapping nature of the arcs creates a rhythmic, wave-like pattern that spans the width of the page.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer
as carefully
as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

DEFINITION OF SUCCESS BY RALPH WALDO EMERSON

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded."
